COMFORT, NOT SPEED . . . It may not have been the speediest craft on Lake Stevens but this "vessel" was just about the most comfortable. It was contrived by Rev. Glenn Goffar, pastor of the Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church, while attending a family reunion at the home of his sister in Washington. Having a motor but no boat available Pastor Goffar built the raft, outfitted it with lawn swing, beach umbrella and chairs and set sail. Included among the voyagers were the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Goffar of Torrance, and Darel Peplot and Mr. and Mrs. William Germain and family, all of Washington.

Talk Set On How to Pray Successfully

How to pray successfully will be the topic of Mrs. Stella Terrill Mann as she speaks at the Church of Religious Science, 503 S. Catalina Ave., Redondo Beach, at the 11 a.m. services Sunday.

Her topic will be "And You Shall Have Them." She will explain her 12 steps to successful prayer, and cite case histories to prove that, correctly used, they produce results.

This is the last three lectures by Mrs. Mann, a Pasadena resident.

Services for all ages are held at 11 a.m., including a nursery with nurse to care for babies and pre-kindergarten children. Inspiration hour services will be held at the regular hour, 1 p.m., on Wednesday.

Revival Set At Narbonne Ave. Church

The Narbonne Ave. Southern Baptist Church of Lomita will have its summer revival Aug. 1 to 11, with the Rev. D. Wade Armstrong as the evangelist.

Rev. Armstrong is director of evangelism for the Southern Baptist General Convention of California. He was formerly pastor in El Dorado, Ark. Services will begin each night at 7:30.

The summer campaign, "Can You Top This?" has emphasized contacts during July. More than 1500 contacts have been reported during the month. Attendance increase is attributed to the number of visits made.

The pastor, Robert A. Wells, will speak on Sunday at the 11 a.m. service on the subject, "How Often Does God Visit His People?"

MOUNTAIN OF SUPPLIES . . . Looking over an invoice for supplies for the 35,000 delegates at the Jehovah's Witness convention at Wrigley Field are Trucker Robert Bailey and Garold F. Dunham, presiding minister of the Torrance congregation, who is trucking supervisor for the meet. He is in charge of supplying the delegates. They are standing beside one of the huge trucks carrying mountains of supplies.

Local Man Must Provide Food, Needs of 35,000

A Torrance man is faced with a supply problem which would stump even the Army and Navy.

He is Garold F. Dunham, presiding minister of the Torrance congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, who is supervisor of the trucking department to supply 35,000 delegates at the "Lifegiving Wisdom" convention of the Witnesses now being held at Wrigley Field.

The convention will be Los Angeles' largest convention of the year.

Heads Trucking
In the roofing business for many years, Mr. Dunham is in charge of hauling food, plants, shrubs and miscellaneous equipment to and from the convention grounds.

More than 13,500 plants were hauled to the site to place on the stage, as well as a 12-foot globe depicting activities of Witnesses throughout the world. It weighed more than 500 pounds. For the kitchen, he was in charge of hauling 20 large stoves, 15 60-gallon steam kettles, two huge mixers, and tons of various kinds of food for the delegates.

At the Witnesses' last convention in New York, the Army and Navy sent representatives to learn how so much equipment could be brought in to serve so many people so quickly.

The Armed Services' representative told the Witnesses that they couldn't handle the same amount of people so quickly.

"Because Jehovah's Witnesses are a society of ministers, they spend most of their time in taking in life-giving knowledge at their conventions," Mr. Dunham said.

"For that reason all the conveniences are made available for them on the convention grounds by volunteer workers. There are no labor-management problems with Jehovah's Witnesses."

Congregation Attends
Mr. Dunham, who lives at 21926 S. Vermont Ave., is leading the entire Torrance congregation to the convention which opened yesterday. The vice president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Fred W. Franz, yesterday welcomed the group, explaining that this assembly was designed to duplicate the assembly of all intelligent creation before Jehovah created the earth.

The society's president, Nathan H. Knorr, will speak tomorrow and on Sunday at 3 p.m. when he will discuss "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near."

Torrance Seventh-Day Adventist Youngsters Attend Summer Camp

Torrance young people will join 750 other Southland youth in a series of summer camps sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist Church at its Cedar Falls campsite in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The five camps, each lasting from seven to 10 days, began July 7, and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 21. In addition to the coed camp for the nine-year-olds, separate boys and girls camps will be held for age groups 10 to 11 and 12 to 15.

Local Participants
Many of the Torrance youngsters are participating at the Cedar Falls camping program this summer, which is planned especially for them.

Each camp provides a packed schedule of sports, swimming, outpost camping, hiking, nature study, and crafts, according to Desmond T. Cummings, camp director and the church's youth leader for Southern California.

"While the young camper is exposed to the wonders of nature it is an opportune time to explain to him that these wonders are the direct result of God's creative power," explains Cummings.

Morning Meet
To effectively meet this objective, a few moments each morning of the camp are set aside for the "morning watch" or outdoor worship period at which time each camper commits to memory a brief passage of scripture. The evening campfire period also enjoys a spiritual emphasis.

Cummings is confident that the church's summer camp program has a special role to play in the life of today's teenager from the metropolitan and suburban areas. He is convinced that the good camper of today will be the solid citizen of tomorrow.
